Why is it important for students to participate in the classroom?

“Learning results from what the student does and thinks and only from what the student does and thinks. The teacher can advance learning only by influencing what the student does to learn.”

HERBERT A. SIMON, one of the founders of the field of Cognitive Science, Nobel Laureate, and University Professor (deceased) at Carnegie Mellon University, from: How Learning Works: Seven Research-Based Principles for Smart Teaching

What risks do we ask students to take in class?

We ask students to be vulnerable in front of others:

• Speaking in public
• Volunteering to have people look at them
• Admitting they don’t know the answer
• Being wrong, being right, feeling judged either way
• Experiencing conflict / disagreement
• Sharing personal opinions, thoughts, experiences

The other people include:

• Potential crushes, exes, competitors, friends, peers
• The instructor who has power over them

How can we create a classroom in which students feel comfortable taking risks?

- Building community
- Creating, using, and enforcing community agreements

These strategies can help establish a respectful, supportive environment that promotes participation & learning.

How can you start to build community prior to your first class session?

Please type into chat:

• What’s worked for you in the past?
• How might you start to build community prior to your first class session?
Dear Macro Community Practice Students,

Welcome to the course! I’m delighted to be working with you this semester, and I look forward to each of your contributions to the class discussions, both in the Canvas course site and in class. Everyone at CSSW brings a wealth of experiences to share, and the more you contribute, the stronger this course will be.

For class on Wednesday, please do three things: [continued....]

My policy is to start every class on time. To avoid getting points taken off for lateness, please log in earlier than you think you need to log in; this will help you deal with any unexpected technical difficulties. I will be in class about 20-30 minutes early each week for anyone who wants to chat, ask questions, or get to know each other, e.g. so that I can be a good reference in the future.

I look forward to seeing you in class!

Best,
Prof Marquart
Getting acquainted - Building community by getting to know what we have in common

In this course, we are going to have some personal conversations, and we'll be coming from all sorts of different perspectives. Therefore, before we get into conversations about race, I'd like us to take a little time to connect with each other as human beings and colleagues. The goal is to start to build a supportive community.

In your discussion forum post, due on Tuesday at 11:59pm EST:

- Tell us where you're from and where you live now, and something you like about each place.
- Share 1-2 things that you care about or love, and why. This should be general enough that other people can relate.

By Wednesday at 11:59pm EST, reply to at least 3 of your classmates. In your replies:

- Share something that resonated with you about their post, or that you have in common.
- Engage with those who have responded to your post.
- Keep in mind that tone can be difficult to interpret online, so be extra careful to write your responses in a respectful tone.

The points for this assignment will be for:

- Submitting your first post on time (1 point)
- In your first post, answering the questions (1 point)
- Submitting your responses to three of your classmates on time (3 points)
- In your responses, following the instructions (3 points)
- Demonstrating professionalism and a supportive tone in your language (2 points)
Breakout Instructions: Intros & finding things in common

This activity builds on our Getting Acquainted discussion forum. In the discussion forum, you had the chance to find out what you had in common with individuals in our class. Now, let’s see what you have in common with a group of your classmates.

1. Unmute your mics & introduce yourselves
2. Choose a recorder to take notes (only one person can write on the note pod at a time)
3. Choose a facilitator who will make sure all voices are heard in the discussion
4. Choose a reporter to share with the whole group when we come back together
5. Discuss which option below you will do, and then do it:
   - Option 1: List as many things as you can that you all have in common
   - Option 2: Find 1-2 really unique things that you all have in common
Sample Introductions: Your Columbia Story

Course: Orientation (ungraded, optional)

Instructions:

To begin to get to know your classmates, please share your Columbia story. When and how did you first hear of Columbia School of Social Work, and what made you decide to apply to the online campus? Where were you when you got your acceptance, and how did you feel? What are you excited about?

After you’ve posted your story, take a look at your classmates' stories and start a conversation.

Course: Orientation (ungraded, optional)

Instructions:

To continue getting to know your classmates, please share a photo of something you enjoy, and let us know why you picked that photo. As an example, you might share a photo of a hobby, a person you admire, the city/town where you live, etc. If you can't decide between two or three photos, feel free to post all of them. Then take a look at your classmates' photos and start a conversation.

How might you create community agreements in your course?

Please type into chat:

• What’s worked for you in the past?
• How might you go about creating community agreements in your course?
How might you enforce community agreements in your course?

Please type into chat:

• What’s worked for you in the past?
• How might you react when someone breaks a community agreement?
Example community agreements: Workers and the Workplace

• What’s said here stays here
• Acknowledge others’ feelings; give feedback, e.g. by saying “ouch”
• Share what’s learned here
• Use each other & each other's strengths as resources
Example community agreements:
Staff Development, Training, & Mentoring

- Argue the point, not the person
- Communicate respect even if you disagree
- Assume good will / don’t take it personally
- One mic
- “Call them in, not out”
- Share real world experiences
- Share ideas / be brave
- Don’t be afraid to shift your mental model
- “Step up / step back”
- Share job opportunities / network
Example community agreements:

Macro Community Practice

- Take turns / one mic
- Be respectful re: others' views / opinions - disagree respectfully & if possible provide data or explain
- Flow in and flow out; give others an opportunity to speak
- Oops and ouch; watch those microaggressions
- Keep info about specific organizations confidential
- Be patient with one another
- Encourage others to be the best versions of themselves; be supportive of each other
- Use your step away sign if you're away so we don't call on you
- Be careful about the impact of text (e.g. there's no vocal tone or facial expression to help understand)
- Actively participate
- Ask the speaker if they'd like a response or just want to be heard
Example community agreements:
Racial Identity Development

- Be respectful; create a respectful environment
- Listen to listen / listen to learn / listen before speaking
- Apologize if needed; acknowledge that we're here to learn
- Be brave about putting ourselves out there
- Take a moment if needed when reacting before you respond
- Oops / ouch
- Create a space for a dialogue; agree that we'll communicate with each other
- Don't make personal accusations
- What's said here stays here; what's learned here leaves here
- Critique ideas, not the person
EXAMPLE: Racial Identity Development: Online course, First-year MSW students

• Community agreements reviewed:
  – At the start of each class session, with potential to edit / add to the agreements
  – Within each small group breakout discussion

• Community agreements enforced:
  – In grading rubrics for class sessions
  – In grading rubrics for online class discussion forums
  – In the moment during live class discussions
Revisiting our Community Agreements

- Be respectful; create a respectful environment
- Listen to listen / listen to learn / listen before speaking
- Apologize if needed; acknowledge that we're here to learn
- Be brave about putting ourselves out there
- Take a moment if needed when reacting before you respond
- Oops / ouch
- Create a space for a dialogue; agree that we'll communicate with each other
- Don't make personal accusations
- What's said here stays here; what's learned here leaves here
- Critique ideas, not the person

Anything to add or change? If these are still ok with you and you still agree to follow them, please give us a green check.

- Share job opportunities / network

Are these still ok?
Example online breakout group setup

Breakout Questions

Note: recorders, please don’t write down private details; before starting to ask questions, check to see what the speakers feel comfortable having written down.

1. What was your experience like with the final paper? Were any parts particularly difficult?
2. What did you learn from the discussion forum about interview excerpts? Did your classmates have similar experiences with their interviews to the experience that you had?
3. If time: Feel free to discuss any final questions you’d like around race & racial identity

Example discussion forum instructions

In your discussion forum post, due on Monday at 11:59pm EST:

- Share who you'd like to interview, and why. Note: fake names are perfectly ok if there's a reason you'd prefer not to say, and you don't have to tell us it's a fake name.
- Share your list of 10 questions for your interviewee.

By Wednesday at 11:59pm EST, reply to at least two of your classmates. In your replies:

- Share something that resonated with you about their post, or that you found interesting
- Share feedback about the questions they plan to ask -- you can provide unlimited positive feedback, but you have a maximum of ONE piece of constructive feedback if you have something helpful to suggest, e.g. about the phrasing of a question, a tip about the overall approach, etc. So, think carefully about what you'd like to say.
- Engage with those who have responded to your post
- Keep in mind that tone can be difficult to interpret online, so be extra careful to write your responses in a respectful tone, and remember to follow our community agreements

This discussion forum is worth 20 points. The points for this assignment will be for:

- Submitting your first post on time (2 points)
- In your first post, sharing who you'd like to interview and why (4 points)
- In your first post, sharing a list of 10 questions you'd like to ask your interviewee (4 points)
- Submitting your responses to two of your classmates on time (2 points)
- In your responses, following the instructions (4 points)
- Demonstrating professionalism and a supportive tone in your language, and following our community agreements (4 points)

Roar, Lion, Roar!
-written by Corey Ford (CC '23)

Lyrics:
Roar, Lion, Roar
And wake the echoes of the Hudson Valley!
Fight on to victory evermore
While the sons of Knickerbocker rally 'round Columbia! Columbia!
Shouting her name forever!
Roar, Lion, Roar!
For Alma Mater on the Hudson Shore!

What’s something that you respect about your colleagues in this class?
Review: What’s something that you respect about your colleagues in this class?

- being brave
- everyone's attention to detail ;)
- ability to listen
- willing to have a conversation about race
- Thoughtful, considerate listeners
- Everyone is open-minded and committed to social equity
- listening!
- consideration for everyone else
- They are intelligent, respectful, and supportive
- Willingness to be present and listen
- being able to handle this subject
- everyone seems open to changing their mindset
- being respectful of peers, openness, diverse experiences

- respect each other's opinion even if they do not always agree
- I respect people's ability to open up and ask questions regarding their gaps in knowledge on race
- Open to other viewpoints
- open-minded
- considerate and respectful
- willingness to be honest and brave
- Willing to learn, open minded, willing to change
- Their dedication to constantly strive towards excellence within themselves, and applying that same passion to helping those in need through evidence based social work practice.
